Custodial history

The Vancouver Women's Bookstore collection was stored in the basement of the Vancouver Women's Bookstore, until 1980 when Margo Dunn removed it only 10 days before an arsonist's fire destroyed the store. Ms. Dunn stored the material and made additions to the collection. Contributions were also made by Kate Braid, Jan Lancaster, and others. In 1985, Kathleen Hudson took over physical custody and donated the material to the Simon Fraser University Archives in 1996. Material in F-111-9 was donated by Alexandra Bischoff.

Scope and content

---

The Women's Bookstore collection consists of materials relating to the operation of several Vancouver women's organizations and reflects the issues that dominated the women's movement throughout the 1970s. Consistent with the community based nature of women's movements during this period, the scope and content of the collection reflects the diversity common to a phenomenon rather than the administrative and subject coherence found in records generated by a single organization. As such, the collection as whole gains its coherence due primarily to the interdependence rather than independence of the individual items to one another. This also applies to the records generated by autonomous organizations in the collection. While the different organizations should be regarded as distinct, a good deal of the records concern the communication between various organizations and women's groups across the country or identify issues of concern to a broad range of organizations. Thus, the collection as whole should be regarded as a record of a dynamic process in which a common ideology served to unify the aims of distinctive organizations, persons, and subjects.

The collection is comprised of the records of the Women's Bookstore, Women's Caucus, A Woman's Place, Transition House, the British Columbia Federation of Women and the Morris and Helen Belkin Art Gallery. Includes constitutions, minutes, reports, correspondence, position papers, and sound recordings. Also includes newsletters from women's centres across British Columbia and Canada, subject files, and an assortment of feminist publications.

Notes

Title notes

- Source of title proper: Title based on provenance of the collection.

Arrangement

The materials were arranged by the Archivist. Subject files were created from material received in considerable disorder, and runs of publications were put together from copies scattered throughout the collection.

Restrictions on access

Some files may contain personal or confidential information. Access to these files may be restricted as stipulated by Archives policy or the donor. Files marked 'pending review' must be reviewed by an archivist prior to release, and as a result of the review access restrictions may apply. Please see the file lists and consult the archivist for more details.

Finding aids

Series descriptions and file lists are available. An item list is available for the publications in series 8. A structure of the women's movement in Vancouver is available in the hard copy version of the finding aid maintained in the Archives Reading Room.

Accruals

All accessions have been processed as of September 2018. No further accruals are expected.

Series F-111-2: Women's Caucus records

Date: 1969 - 1971 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Series consists of records of the Vancouver Women's Caucus. The group began as the Women's Caucus at Simon Fraser University. In 1969 the group moved off-campus in order to reach a larger number of women. The activities of the caucus included demonstrations, discussions, and abortion counseling. It also dealt with issues such as jobs, education, and society's responsibility for children. In 1969 it founded the feminist newspaper, The Pedestal (later known as Women Can), and in 1970 it organized the Abortion Cavalcade/Caravan to Ottawa. Includes correspondence, minutes, articles and position papers.

Series F-111-3: A Woman's Place records

Date: 1972 - 1973 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Series consists of records of A Woman's Place Society, formed to establish and operate a house for women in Vancouver. The house was to provide a centre where women could meet to discuss issues and common problems, and to act together. The house would also serve as the focus for the development of several projects relating to childcare, health, information resources and legal aid. Includes constitution, correspondence, proposals, reports, logbooks, and newsletters.

Series F-111-4: Transition House records

Date: 1977 - 1985 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Series consists of records relating to the Vancouver Transition House, and other transition houses in British Columbia. Transition houses were set up to offer a refuge for women and children forced to leave their homes due to violent and abusive situations. The goal of the transition houses was to secure the safety and health of the women and children in their care, and to ensure that they not return to unresolved and dangerous situations. Includes academic papers, articles, briefs, correspondence, minutes and publications.

Series F-111-9: "Rereading Room: The Vancouver Women's Bookstore (1973-1996)" Belkin Gallery art installation

Creator: Morris and Helen Belkin Art Gallery

Date: 2018 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Series consists of an audio recording of a January 10, 2018 panel discussion with nine former volunteers with the Vancouver Women's Bookstore. The panel was moderated by Alexandra Bischoff and Vincent Tao. It formed part of a reunion celebration held at the Morris and Helen Belkin Gallery on the evening before the opening of the exhibition Beginning with the Seventies: Glut, which exhibited Bischoff's "Rereading Room," a reconstruction of the Vancouver Women's Bookstore.
