Note

The Learning and Instruction Development Centre (LIDC) was a service unit that provided in-classroom technical assistance and support; worked with SFU departments to create multimedia educational productions (photographs, sound recordings, film and video); and offered training programs in new instructional techniques and methods.

LIDC had its origins in the Audio Visual Centre established in the Library in 1967. Headed by Walter Griba from 1967 to 1993, the AV Centre became an independent unit in 1973. It was renamed the Instructional Media Centre (IMC) in 1981, then LIDC in 2001. For most of its history, the unit reported to the VP Academic portfolio, with a short period (1986-1991) during which it was part of the VP Research group.

In 2010-11, LIDC was reorganized and its two core functions were separated out to two new units: the Teaching and Learning Centre (TLC), focussed on instructional support services; and Creative Services, focussed on the creation of multimedia works supporting or highlighting SFU teaching, research, and programs. In 2014 Creative Services was renamed Creative Studio and became part of University Communications and Marketing.

Name history:

- Audio Visual Centre (1967-1981)
- Instructional Media Centre (1981-2001)
- Learning and Instructional Media Centre (2001-2011)

Chief officers:

- Walter Griba, Coordinator (1967-1973), Director (1973-1993)
- T. Greenwood, Director (1993-2000)
- William Glackman, Acting Director (2000-2001)
- David Kaufman, Director (2001-2008)

Successor bodies:

- Teaching and Learning Centre
- Creative Services / Creative Studio in University Communications and Marketing

For a visual representation of LIDC's administrative history data, see the appendix in the pdf finding aid for F-18, Learning Instructional Development Centre fonds.

Custodial history

The records were in the custody and control of LIDC and its predecessors. Transfers to the Archives began in the 1980s, with accessions continuing through the 2010s.

Scope and content

---

Fonds consists of predominantly of media works (photographs, moving images, sound recordings, graphic materials) created by LIDC and its predecessors. Records were created in the course of the department's work to provide media and technical support for university teaching and research; support instruction in the development of innovative teaching methods; produce publications to communicate and promote SFU and its programs; and create an audio-visual record of campus events and activities. Records include photographs in various formats (negatives, contact sheets, prints, slides), graphic design materials (drawings and cartoons), sound recordings and moving images; textual records comprise print publications created for client departments.

The fonds has been arranged into five series based on media type and subject:

- Photographic material (series 1).
- Moving images (series 2).
- Convocation recordings (series 3 - audio and video).
- Graphic and design works (series 4).
- Reports and publications (series 5).

Notes

Title notes

- Source of title proper: Title of the fonds is based on the name of the creating department. The unit's name changed over time, and the title uses the last form of the name.

Alternative form available

The Archives is in the process of digitizing some of the materials in this fonds: photographic contact sheets and negatives (series 1-4); and sound recordings, film and video (series 2 and series 3). Some items in these series may have been digitized but not yet fully processed (ingested to the digital preservation system with preservation and access copies generated). Consult the reference archivist for more information.

Restrictions on access

The records in the fonds are university records subject to British Columbia's *Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA)*. Access restrictions may apply to records containing personal information or confidential information. Most of the series, however, represent materials that were produced for public dissemination, and these are generally open. Files marked "pending review" must be reviewed for clearance by an archivist prior to release. See the file lists and consult the reference archivist for more information.

Access to audio-visual materials on their original analog formats may be restricted for preservation reasons, due to the fragility of the medium or the lack of playback equipment. The Archives will provide access through digitization; consult the reference archivist for more information.

Conditions governing use

Most of the materials in the fonds were created by SFU employees in the course of their employment and copyright belongs to SFU. The Archives provides makes these materials available under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial license (CC BY-NC). Users are free to copy, share and adapt the materials as they like provided they credit SFU as the creator, indicate any changes they have made, and use the works for a non-commercial purpose. All requests for commercial use should be made in writing to SFU Archives.

The fonds also includes works created by non-SFU third parties and SFU does not own copyright in these materials. The Archives may make copies available for private study or research purposes under the fair dealing provisions of Canada's Copyright Act. Use for any other purpose may require the permission of the copyright owner. SFU Archives can assist researchers in attempting to identify copyright owners, but it is the users' responsibility to contact owners and secure any permissions. See individual series descriptions for more information about the application of copyright to specific sets of records.

Finding aids

An index to photographs (contact sheets and negatives) is available; see series 1-4 for more information.

Accruals

No further accruals are expected, but as of January 2023 there remain 3 boxes (ca. 1 m.) of materials in backlog (not yet processed). These appear to be the working files of one or more LIDC photographers and include negatives, contact sheets, prints, and slides. The exact relation of this material to the photographs in series 1 has not yet been determined.

Series F-18-1: Photographic material

Date: 1963-2006 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Series consists of photographs created by the staff photographers of LIDC and its predecessors. Negatives and contact sheets were systematically maintained, organized by year-based serial numbers (see sub-series 4 for description of the system). Two groups of subject-based files were also maintained, organized alphabetically: a set of slides (sub-series 2) and a set of unnumbered prints and negatives (sub-series 5). Subjects include SFU's architectural competition and design, interior and exterior architecture; opening ceremonies, presidential installations, Convocation and other special events; faculty portraits and images of students, faculty and staff in classroom and campus settings. Photographers whose works are represented in the series include Chris Hildred, Ron Long, Eddy Chan, Greg Ehlers, and Fred Kyba. Record types include negatives, contact sheets, slides and prints.

The series is arranged into three sub-series; note that there is no sub-series 1 or 3 (retired; see note on Arrangement).

- Slides, 1967-2003 (F-18-1-2).
- Numbered contact sheets, negatives and prints, 1963-2001 (F-18-1-4).
- Unnumbered prints and negatives, 1967-1999 (F-18-1-5).

Physical description: Analog originals:

- ca. 255,100 negatives
- ca. 13,000 photographic slides
- ca. 8500 contact sheets
- ca. 1900 prints

Digitized copies:

ca. 270 GB of photographs: tiff (preservation copies), pdf, jpg (access copies)

Access points:

- Hildred, Chris (subject)
- Long, Ron (subject)
- Chan, Ed (subject)
- Ehlers, Greg (subject)
- Kyba, Fred (subject)
- Photographic material (documentary form)
- Records in electronic form (digitized) (documentary form)

Arrangement:

Former sub-series 1 (Contact sheets and negatives) and sub-series 3 (Prints) were retired in 2022. The contact sheets and negatives were reorganized in an arrangement based more closely on the creator's control numbering system as sub-series 4. The 3 folders of prints in sub-series 3 were consolidated into a single file (F-18-1-5-0-29) and moved into a new sub-series 5, Unnumbered prints and negatives.

Alternative form available:

Materials in sub-series 4 are in the process of being digitized; see *Availability of other formats* note in sub-series description.

Restrictions on access:

Records are open with no restrictions.

Conditions governing use:

Copyright in the bulk of these records belongs to SFU (materials made in the course of employment). The Archives provides access to these materials under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial license (CC BY-NC). There may be some exceptions where photos included in the series were created by non-SFU third parties; these will be noted in file-level descriptions where applicable.

Related material:

For other large sets of university-related photographs, see series F-61-1 in the University Communications and Marketing fonds and series F-17-1 in the Peak Publications Society fonds.

Accruals:

No further accruals are expected. Born-digital photographs transferred by IMC/ LIDC's successor body will be placed in the University Communications and Marketing fonds (F-61) in series F-61-1-5, Digital photographs.

Publication status:

published

Subseries F-18-1-2: Slides

Date: 1967-2006 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Sub-series consists of slides created by LIDC photographers, maintained in alphabetically organized files based on subject. The exact relationship between the slides and the negatives and contact sheets in sub-series 4 is not clear; slides may have been created from the original negatives, but (with very few exceptions) there is no cross-reference on the slide back to a negative. For the general range of subjects, see parent series description (F-18-1).

Physical description: ca. 13,000 photographic slides

Access points:

- Photographic material (documentary form)

Arrangement:

Slides were maintained in files, organized alphabetically.

Restrictions on access:

Files are open with no access restrictions.

Conditions governing use:

See note on *Terms governing use* in the parent series descriptionF-18-1.

No further accruals are expected.

Subseries F-18-1-4: Numbered contact sheets, negatives and prints

Date: 1963-2001 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Sub-series consists of photographic negatives, contact sheets and prints created by staff photographers of LIDC and its predecessors. Contact sheets are pages of thumbnail images developed from the negatives. Contact sheets were organized by the creators by year, assigning a unique year-based serial number to each sheet (e.g. IMC 72062 = contact sheet 62 from 1972 created by the Instructional Media Centre). It is the contact sheets (rather than individual images) that were indexed (see note below on *Finding aids*).

For a few years (1987-1989), prints were developed from the negatives and filed by the same contact-sheet number system. Not all contact sheet negatives in these years were developed into prints; and the number of the prints post-1989 is very small. In the file-level contact sheet descriptions, the *Physical storage* section indicates the availability and container number of the contact sheet and any associated negatives and prints. In a small number of cases, contact sheets or negative may be missing, meaning they were not transferred to the Archives.

For photo subjects, see the parent series description for F-18-1, Photographic materials.

Note that the 1963 negatives pre-date the construction of the university and were later incorporated by IMC into its photo system. There are no contact sheets for the 1963 images.

Physical description: Analog originals:

ca. 255,000 negatives

ca. 8500 contact sheets

ca. 1800 prints

Digitized copies:

ca. 270 GB of photographs: tiff (preservation copies), pdf, jpg (access copies)

Language of the material:

English

Access points:

- Photographic material (documentary form)
- Records in electronic form (digitized) (documentary form)

Arrangement:

In the Archives' initial arrangement of this material (as F-18-1-1), contact sheets and negatives were physically housed in file folders based on the number of items that could reasonably fit in a folder.

There was a separate run of files for contact sheets and negatives, and file numbers were assigned sequentially.

In 2018-2020, the Archives physically rehoused the materials, removing them from file folders to flat storage. Contact sheets and negatives are still stored separately, but the creator's original year-based reference codes apply to both and are used to correlate and locate materials. In 2022, the old sub-series (F-18-1-1) was retired. The current arrangement more closely follows the original organization by contact sheet number. It creates a sub-sub-series for each year and within those groupings, a file for each contact sheet. As individual photographs are scanned from the original negatives, these are uploaded as items of the contact sheet.

Alternative form available:

The Archives is digitizing and uploading the contact sheets (1965-1972 completed as of October 2022). Contact sheets are sometimes annotated on the back, and the sheets have been digitized front and back as separate tiff files (preservation copy), along with a combined pdf (access copy). For access to the tiffs, consult the reference archivist.

The Archives can provide high-quality scans from the original negatives. Contact the reference archivist and indicate the contact sheet and frame number of the image(s) requested. Scanning resolutions depend on the size of the original negative but are calculated so as to produce an image with 4000 pixels on the longest side. The access copies in SFU AtoM are jpgs, but the higher-quality tiff preservation copies are available on request. Note that when providing copies to researchers, the Archives does not attempt to retouch or crop images, leaving this to the researchers; the images uploaded to AtoM are as-provided to researchers. The Archives is in the process of uploading previously scanned images to SFU AtoM.

Restrictions on access:

The photographs are open with no restrictions.

Conditions governing use:

Copyright in the bulk of these records belongs to SFU (materials made in the course of employment). The Archives provides access to these materials under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial license (CC BY-NC). There may be some exceptions where photos included in the sub-series were created by non-SFU third parties; these will be noted in file-level descriptions where applicable.

Finding aids:

In 1984 the Archives worked with SFU's Computing Centre to create an automated photo index on the university's mainframe computing service. Archives staff input descriptive data found on the back of contact sheets into the centralized database, the scope of which encompassed the photos covered by this series, as well as photos created by Media and Public Relations (F-61-1) and The Peak (F-17-1). Post-1984, photographers had access to the database to index their own contact sheets. Around 1990, the database was discontinued and the data exported to a standalone FileMaker database transferred to Archives. Photographers, however, also received similar FileMaker databases and continued their own indexing. This data was also eventually transferred to Archives along with the sheets and negatives.

Around 2012, the Archives consolidated all this legacy descriptive data into its internal Archives Information System (AIS) database to facilitate searches for reference inquiries. The data, however, was only accessible in the Archives' reading room. In the fall of 2022 the Archives migrated the index into SFU AtoM, mapping the legacy data over to the *Scope and content* note at the file level for individual contact sheets. No attempt has been made to massage the data into narrative descriptions. The index did not always use consistent subject terms, some terms may be dated, and spelling errors may occur.

Date: 1967-1999 (date of creation)

Date: 1916-1999 (dates of document) (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Sub-series consists of photographic prints and negatives that were not assigned standard control numbers by the creating department (see sub-series 1-4 for description of the numbering system used by LIDC and its predecessors). Subjects include SFU architecture, campus scenes, and photos of university community members (Pauline Jewett, Chris Davies, David Skulski, A.J. Grants, Paul Cote, Wolfgang Youngrau, James B. Griffin, and R.W. Wylie). File 1 contains a series of photographs from the life of SFU Chancellor Gordon Shrum, including a World War I portrait and photos of his years at UBC and BC Hydro; some of these images were used in the the film produced by the Audio-Visual Centre This is SFU (1972).

Subseries F-18-2-3: Digital videotapes

Date: 1965-2009, predominant 2002-2009 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Sub-series consists of digital video footage of campus events taken by LIDC staff. LIDC began using digital video cameras ca. 2002. Files 1-8 represent earlier analog materials later transferred to DVCam; file 109 is 1965 footage shot by CBC and transferred in 2006. Events documented include public lectures and readings, dance and theatre performances, building dedications, award and special ceremonies, anniversaries and commemorations.

Arrangement:

LIDC transferred 4 boxes of digital videotapes to the Archives in January 2015. All items had been assigned ID numbers by LIDC, in two ranges (1000-1600 and 9000-9400) with large gaps in the numbering. The creator's ID numbers are recorded at the item-level in *Alternative identifier* note. The 1000-range numbers were assigned in roughly chronological order, but this gets lost at the higher end of the range and is not characteristic of the 9000-range tapes. The Archives has physically organized the tapes by the original ID number, but has arranged the material chronologically for purposes of assigning archival file and item reference codes.

Many of the events were shot over multiple videotapes. For purposes of arrangement, each event is treated as a *file* and the actual tapes as *items* (even where there is only one tape for an event).

There is no file / item 124 due to numbering error during processing. File 109 is out of chronological order. It contains footage of SFU originally shot by CBC in 1965 and transferred to digital videotape in 2006; it has been moved to the front of the list.

Footage of various SFU Convocations was included in the same transfer, but has been separated out as its own series; see F-18-3-3. But tapes from both sub-series are physically intermixed, sorted by the original tape ID numbers.

Restrictions on access:

All files / items are open with no access restrictions.

Conditions governing use:

For the bulk of the materials, SFU is the copyright owner as works created in the course of employment. The Archives provides access to these materials under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial license (CC BY-NC).

The sub-series does include some third-party materials copied over to SFU and for which SFU is not the copyright owner. The Archives makes can provide a copy for private study or research purposes under the fair dealing provisions of Canada's Copyright Act. ### Series F-18-3: Convocation recordings

Date: 1967-2009 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Series consists of audio and audio-visual recordings of SFU Convocation ceremonies. Formats include audiocassettes (sound recordings), VHS videotape and DVCam digital videotape. The series is arranged into three sub-series:

- Convocation: sound recordings (F-18-3-1)
- Convocation: audio-visual recordings (F-18-3-2)
- Convocation: digital video footage (F-18-3-3)

Physical description: ca. 200 sound recordings
ca. 300 moving images

Language of the material:

English

Access points:

- Sound recording (documentary form)
- Moving images (documentary form)

Alternative form available:

The Archives is in the process (as of January 2023) of digitizing its audio and audio-visual holdings. Some items may have been digitized but not yet fully processed (ingested to the digital preservation system with preservation and access copies generated). Consult the reference archivist for more information.

Restrictions on access:

All files and items are open with no access restrictions.

Conditions governing use:

Recordings are protected by copyright, and copyright ownership is mixed, with both SFU-owned and third-party copyrights.

For the audio recordings (sub-series 1), SFU was the maker of the recordings and owned a copyright in the materials (some copyrights may have expired). But copyright in the content of Convocation addresses belongs to the speaker, not SFU, and duration will be based on life of creator + 70 years.

For the video recordings (sub-series 2 and 3), copyright ownership in the recordings themselves is more uncertain. In the 1980s and 1990s, SFU contracted with Best Colour Video to produce Convocation videos and Best Colour retains the copyright. There is uncertainty as to when this arrangement came to an end, but it is likely that recordings from the 2000s on were shot by LIDC employees and SFU will own a copyright on this material. But as with the audio recordings, copyright in the content of Convocation addresses belongs to the speaker, not SFU, and duration will be based on life of creator + 70 years.

For more information, consult the reference archivist; see also the general note on mixed copyright ownership.

Subseries F-18-3-3: Convocation: digital video footage

Date: 1991-2009, predominant 2002-2009 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Sub-series consists of footage of SFU Convocations, shot in digital video. The use of DV by LIDC appears to have started ca. 2002. The pre-2002 tapes (files 1-2) likely represent digital transfers from earlier analog VHS recordings. The exact relation between the footage in this sub-series and that in sub-series 3-2 has not yet been closely analyzed or determined.

Physical description: 62 digital videotapes

Subseries F-18-4-1: Elizabeth Carefoot artwork and graphics

Creator: Carefoot, Elizabeth

Date: [ca. 1980-1992] (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Series consists of artwork and graphic materials created by Elizabeth Carefoot, a graphic designer and illustrator who worked at LIDC and its predecessors for over thirty years (ca. 1972-2003). Carefoot worked with SFU departments and faculty members to create illustrations and graphics for their works relating to university teaching and research. Most of Carefoot's output over the years was not transferred to Archives, and this series represents only a small fraction of her SFU output - a single box of design files that were transferred to the Archives in 2011 after the dissolution of LIDC by one of its successor bodies, the Teaching and Learning Centre (TLC).

The files cover a range of projects ca. 1980-1992. Projects documented include illustrations for course workbooks in Criminology and the Faculty of Education; publications on bees by Mark Winston, a faculty member in Department of Biological Sciences; label designs for SFU Heavenly Honey; and the 1986 SFU Christmas Card.

Document types include drawings and sketches, page mockups and transparencies, book illustrations, posters, cards and photographic negatives and prints.

Notes

<sup>1</sup> In 2011 LIDC was re-organized. Teaching support / development moved to the new Teaching and Learning Centre (TLC), which continued to report to the VP Academic portfolio. Media production staff (photographers and videographers) formed a separate group, Creative Services. The exact reporting relationship of the new Creative Services is not clear. In the 2012 telephone directory, staff from this section are located under Lifelong Learning. The name Creative Services does not appear on the university organization chart until 2014, where the unit is located in the VP External Relations portfolio.

<sup>2</sup> In 2014, Creative Services was renamed Creative Studio and moved into the newly established University Communications and Marketing portfolio (a reorganization of the former Public Affairs and Media Relations).

For archival purposes, the LIDC fonds (F-18) is considered closed as of 2011. The records Creative Services / Creative Studio took with it to University Communications and Marketing (photographs, videos) are considered part of the latter's fonds (F-61).
