Administrative history / Biographical sketch

Note

The Simon Fraser University Society (SFUSS) was established on October 5, 1965. "University" was later dropped and it is now known as the Simon Fraser Student Society (SFSS). The SFSS still maintains its original constitutional objectives: "to promote, direct, administer, coordinate all student activities of, by and for the students of Simon Fraser University, and to promote cooperation amongst the students of Simon Fraser University and cooperation between the members of the Society and students within the Province and elsewhere." Its mandate has come to include advocating for students rights and providing services to graduate and undergraduate members. These include advocacy services, such as Legal Aid and Women's Centre, and retail services, such as Quad Books, the Print Shop and the Pub.

In its first year, the Society organized social events, co-sponsored Vietnam teach-ins, started a co-op bookstore, and protested against the poor quality food offered on campus. In the 1970s, the Society organized against tuition fee increases, lobbied for improved on-campus housing, started a women's centre, and opened a student-run pub. The 1980s saw the development of plans for a student union building and a continuation in the struggle for affordable education. In the 1990s the Society has constructed the Maggie Benston Centre, expanded its services and continues to advocate on behalf of students for accessible, affordable education.

The Executive Council originally consisted of 14 elected officers: President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, Ombudsman, Clubs Director, Public Relations Officer, Arts, Science and Education Presidents, Athletics Coordinator, Social Convenor, Cultural Director, and Housing coordinator. This remained until 1977 when changes to constitutional by laws established five at large positions: President, Treasurer, External and Internal Relations Officers, Secretary, and Public Relations Officer and the Ombuds Office. Currently, six elected Executive officers and 36 Student Union representatives elected by students from each academic department sit on the Forum, the student representative body responsible for all major Student Society decisions. The Departmental Student Unions and Standing Committees supply information and recommendations to the Forum. Student Society Standing Committees deal with every aspect of the Society's operations.

Notes

Title notes

- Source of title proper: Title of the fonds is based on the name of the organization.

Immediate source of acquisition

The fonds was donated by the Simon Fraser Student Society.

Arrangement

The arrangement of the records into series was established by the archivist to reflect the main functions and activities of the Society. Note that two series numbers are no longer in use:

Series 9 (Publications) was replaced by series 12 (Publications) when the archivist re-organized its contents into sub-series.

Series 11 (Audio recordings) was discontinued in 2008 when the Archives deaccessioned its contents (recordings of Society meetings).

Restrictions on access

Some files may contain personal or confidential information. Access to these files may be restricted as stipulated by Archives policy or the donor. Files marked 'pending review' must be reviewed by an archivist prior to release, and as a result of the review access restrictions may apply. Please see the file lists and consult the archivist for more details.

Finding aids

Series descriptions and file lists are available.

Series F-74-12: Publications

Date: 1965 - 2009 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Series consists of publications produced by the Student Society and its affiliated groups. Includes student almanacs and handbooks, Society bulletins and newsletters, newspapers affiliated with the Society, journals, directories, guides, event flyers, notices, and posters.

Physical description: 22 cm of textual records

Arrangement:

The series was arranged into sub-series by the archivist. It was established in 2012 to replace the former series F-74-9, Publications. This had been a single series (no sub-series), originally arranged alphabetically, but with subsequent accruals the order was no longer in sync. To facilitate access, the archivist re-organized the material into sub-series, with files in each organized chronologically.

Restrictions on access:

All files are open, with one exception in sub-series 3; see the sub-series description for details.

Accruals:

Further accruals are expected.

Scope and content:

Sub-series consists of publications produced by the Society to inform students about SFSS activities, and SFU campus life and services. Includes student handbooks and guides, the 1967 student directory, a student-run teacher and course evaluation guide for 1978-79, and the annual SFSS Almanac that began in 1986-87 (not all years are included in the run).

- Records in electronic form (digitized) (documentary form)

Arrangement:

The yearbooks (two copies of two issues) were originally arranged by the archivist as part of series 10 (Subject files), with separate file numbers (39–42) assigned to each physical item. In May 2016, the Archives made the digitized versions available, and the archivist assigned the yearbooks to a new sub-series (12-5), registering each issue as a separate item.

Alternative form available:

The yearbooks were digitized by the Archives in 2015. For the production master copy, a digital photograph was made for each page (in tiff format). From these a single pdf file was compiled as the access copy. The production master copies are stored in the Archives' digital repository preservation system.

Conditions governing use:

The Yearbooks are protected under copyright as collective works. There may be multiple copyright holders. There is no surviving documentation regarding copyright arrangements made at the time of creation. Given the lack of evidence, the Archives' best surmise is that the Student Society owns copyright in the work as a whole, but the individual contributors retained copyright on their own contributions.

The Archives may provide copies for a private study, research or other purpose allowed under the fair dealing provisions of Canada's Copyright Act. Use of copies for any other purpose may require permission of the copyright holder(s). Researchers are responsible for obtaining all permissions directly from the copyright holder(s).
