Discussion Topics: This course is designed to introduce students to world prehistory from the emergence of modern human behaviour at the end of the Palaeolithic period in the Old World to the appearance of the major civilizations of the Old and New Worlds. Along this path we examine major cultural and technological developments: the development of agriculture, the emergence of complex societies, and the emergence of civilization. Classes will be structured mainly around PowerPoint lectures with occasional films. Student evaluations will be based on two exams and a term paper.

Grading: Midterm Exam 30%

Term Paper 40%
