

Archaeology of Britain

Archaeology 321

Section: D100

Term: 2013 Spring

Instructor: Dr. Rudy Reimer/Yumks

Office: SWH 9085

Phone: 778.782.3594

email: rudyr@sfu.ca

Office hours: Tues. 1:30 - 2:20

Discussion Topics: This course is a descriptive study of the First Nations cultures of Canada, as they were at the time of initial contact with Europeans. Aerial coverage is organized on a culture area basis. Each area will be discussed on terms of languages, population, early post-contact history and its impact on traditional lifeways. Detailed aspects discussed include ethnographic descriptions of economics, social and political organization, ceremony and religion and warfare. These topics will be explored in a number of current day case studies of archaeological research with a focus on Indigenous Archaeology.

Grading: 4 quizzes (10% each) 40%
Term paper 30%
Weekly discussion and participation 15%
Annotated bibliography 15%

Required Texts: Alice B. Kehoe. 2006. North American Indians: A Comprehensive Account. 3rd edition. Pearson.

George Nicholas. 2010. Being and Becoming Indigenous Archaeologists. Left Coast Press.

Recommended Texts:

Materials/Supplies:

Prerequisite/Corequisite: ARCH 272 or 273

Notes: If a quiz, examination or assignment is missed they can only be written if a student submits an authenticated medical certificate.

Students requiring accommodations as a result of a disability must contact the Centre for Students with Disabilities 778.782.3112 or csdo@sfu.ca

All students are expected to read and understand SFU's policies with regard to academic honesty and student conduct (S10). These policies are available at the following web address: <http://www.sfu.ca/policies/Students/index.html>

Deferred grades will be given only on the basis of authenticated medical disability.

This outline is derived from a course outline repository database that was maintained by SFU Student Services and the University's IT Services Department. The database was retired in 2014 and the data migrated to SFU Archives in 2015.