University Heraldry

The University Coat of Arms was granted to the University in 1965 by the Lord Lyon King of Arms.

The heraldic description of the coat of arms is:

"Quarterly; 1st and 4th, Azure, three fraises Argent; 2nd and 3rd, Argent, three antique crowns Gules, in chief Gules an open book proper, binding and foreedges, Or, between two crosslets fitchée of the last."

The Coat of Arms was derived from that of the Clan Fraser. The name Fraser is said to have come from the French word "fraises," meaning strawberries, hence the Shield and flag each include the strawberry flower motif.

The mace was commissioned by the University architects, Erickson-Massey, and was presented to the University at the opening ceremonies on September 9, 1965. The mace is 61 inches long and weighs 23 pounds. Pieces of cut and polished jade, which were taken from the University's jade boulder in the reflecting pool, were set in silver by its designer, Haida artist Bill Reid. The mace is crowned by a silver stag's head, derived from the coat-of-arms of Lord Lovat, head of the Clan Fraser. The Fraser tradition was to fasten sprigs of yew in their bonnets before entering battle. The mace was carved from two hundred-year-old yew, gathered on Burnaby Mountain by a resident in the 1940s.

Lord Lovat presented the University with a claymore, or great sword, on September 9, 1965. The claymore was first used by a Fraser at the Battle of Culloden Moor in 1746. It was also used by a Fraser at the Battle of the Plains of Abraham in 1759. The claymore is approximately 36 inches long and weighs two pounds.

The flag was dedicated and flown for the first time at the Convocation ceremonies in June 1981.

This program is prepared more than a week before Convocation and therefore may not be complete.

Academic Dress

The regalia worn today by our graduates has a colourful history.

Regalia originated in the monasteries of the Middle Ages. At that time, university faculty were men of religion who wore the habit of their Order when teaching. Over time, their garments came to identify their university. In Europe, laymen did not commonly teach in universities until the 19th century. Only by 1858, for example, did British law no longer require university dons to be in holy orders. Nevertheless, professors continued to wear clerical garb, with modifications in cut and design.

Regalia colours often matched those of the university patron, or of the city in which the university was located; Simon Fraser regalia combines the red and royal blue of the Clan Fraser. (The University motto "nous sommes prêts," or "we are ready," parallels the Clan's "je suis prêt.")

The degree hood was originally part of the monk's habit - a carryall for food or other small items. Eventually, the hood became separate from the gown, variegated in colour, and emblematic of scholars and degrees from particular universities. Hoods in Canada and Europe are unique in design and colour to each degree and each university.

The history of the mortarboard worn by our Bachelors and Masters begins with high church dignitaries in the 16th century. These officials wore hats consisting of little more than a cap with a raised, squared crown. By the 18th century, the crown had evolved into a cloth-covered board, and the wearers into the deans and rectors of universities. The 19th century saw the top knob replaced by a tassel, and the cap become required student attire. Reminded of the square board masons used to hold mortar, students dubbed the headgear a "mortarboard"—college slang of the day.

Doctoral hats are patterned after the Florentine hats in the time of the Medici. Students purchased hats of the appropriate university colours when continuing with advanced studies after completing the Bachelors degree.

O Canada

O Canada! Our home and native land!
True patriot love in all our sons command.
With glowing hearts we see thee rise,
The true North strong and free!
From far and wide, O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.
God keep our land glorious and free!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee,
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

O Canada

O Canada! Our home and native land!
True patriot love in all our sons command.
With glowing hearts we see thee rise,
The true North strong and free!
From far and wide, O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.
God keep our land glorious and free!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee,
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.
Soloist: Chris Demwell

From far and wide, O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.
God keep our land glorious and free!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee,
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

PRESIDENT'S 40TH ANNIVERSARY AWARDS

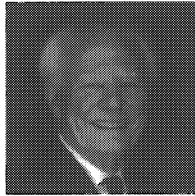

Ms Nini Baird is former director of SFU's Centre for Communication and the Arts (now the School for Contemporary Arts). She helped create a "university without walls" for artists and audiences, training many artists and administrators who went on to shape the arts in Canada.

Dr Thomas Calvert, professor emeritus of computing science, engineering science and kinesiology, led the charge to create SFU engineering. He was also SFU's first vice president, research and the first acting academic director of SFU Surrey.

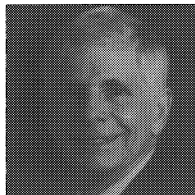

Dr Ronald Baker was SFU's first faculty appointment. His key legacy is SFU's innovative trimester system which he recommended during his tenure as academic planner. SFU was the first university in Canada to provide such flexibility in enrolment and degree completion times.

Ms Sheila Davidson was executive director of SFU's childcare centre for more than 10 years. She led a major expansion of facilities and programs for the first—and one of the largest—university childcare centres in Canada.

Mr Greg Basham served as president of SFU's alumni association for two non-consecutive terms. Under his leadership the association gained the financial commitment to create the Diamond Alumni Centre, a meeting and social space for SFU's 88,000 alumni.

As the first football coach and founding director of athletics and recreation at SFU, Mr W. Lorne Davies built an athletics program considered one of the best in the country. He established the first endowment fund to support a university athletics program.

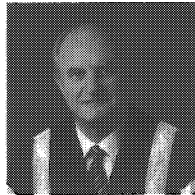

Dr Samuel Belzberg chaired SFU's first major fundraising campaign that successfully raised money to establish SFU's downtown campus at Harbour Centre. He later played a key role in the creation of the Morris J. Wosk Centre for Dialogue.

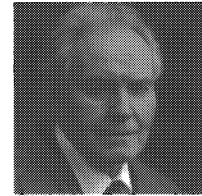

SFU alumna Ms Valerie Dunsterville has provided years of volunteer service to SFU. A long-serving convocation senator and participant on several senate committees, she has also been active in SFU's annual plant sale, a fundraiser for student bursaries.

Former SFU president Dr Jack Blaney championed initiatives that integrated the university with the community. Most notably, as Canada's first dean of continuing studies, he established the university's highly successful continuing studies department and led the creation of SFU's downtown campus.

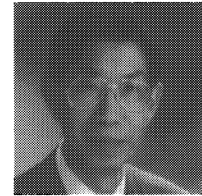

Dr Alan H. Emmott is former reeve (mayor) of Burnaby, GVRD chairman, and member of SFU's Senate. An early supporter of the concept of a university on Burnaby Mountain, he helped initiate a civic donation of 1,000 acres of land toward its development.

Dr George Bowering, professor emeritus of English, enriched the SFU community for 29 years through his teaching and writing. He has published more than 80 books of poetry, fiction, and nonfiction, winning the Governor General's Award twice. Dr Bowering is also Canada's first Poet Laureate.

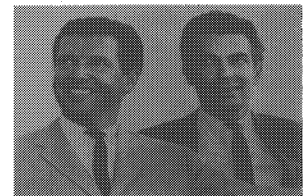

Dr Peter Eng's generosity and commitment to education have led to the development of three post-secondary institutions in China and Canada. He donated the heritage Toronto Dominion Bank building in Vancouver to house the Morris J. Wosk Centre for Dialogue.

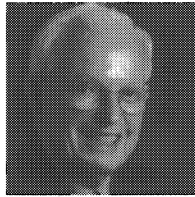

Dr Robert Brown was professor of geography and spent 20 years as a senior SFU administrator. He helped create the faculty of interdisciplinary studies, with its innovative curriculum that included areas of social concern crossing traditional disciplinary boundaries.

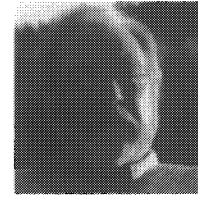

Dr Arthur Erickson and Mr Geoff Massey are the award-winning architects of SFU's Burnaby campus. Their vision for a university with a central mall, where students from different disciplines cross paths, was the foundation for creating a unique interdisciplinary university.

Former registrar Dr Harry M. Evans spent five years as chair of the board of SFU's student financial assistance program, and 13 years as a member of the board of trustees of SFU's academic pension plan. He was also key in establishing SFU's Association of Retirees.

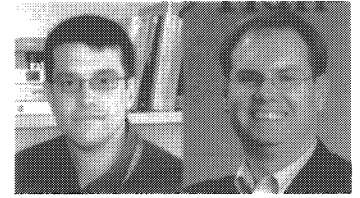

SFU professor emeritus Dr Richard Lipsey is one of Canada's most influential economists. He recently received the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council's highest honour, its gold medal for research achievement, recognizing his more than 50 years of contribution to economic research.

Dr Thelma Finlayson is professor emerita in biological sciences and was one of an early group of scientists that established the pestology research centre. She still generously contributes her time, counsel, and private funds to help support the university community.

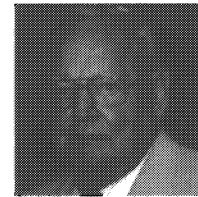

SFU alumni Dr Marco Marra and Dr Steven Jones are leading researchers at Canada's Michael Smith Genome Sciences Centre at the British Columbia Cancer Agency. Dr Marra directs the centre while Dr Jones is founding head of bioinformatics.

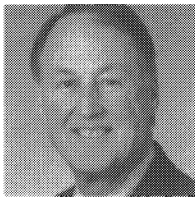

Dr Biruté Mary Galdikas is the foremost authority on orangutans in the world. She has been contributing her knowledge and passion to SFU students since the mid-1980s, when she became a professor in the department of archaeology.

Dr Fred H. Moonen was chair of the SFU Board of Governors for two terms and chair of the SFU Foundation. Since 1989 he has donated to the Fred and Elaine Moonen Endowment, which provides annual scholarships to communication students.

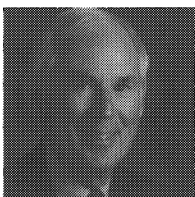

As chair of the Board of Directors of the Burnaby Mountain Community Corporation, prominent lawyer Mr David E. Gillanders oversees the planning and development of the unique, environmentally responsible, technologically advanced, residential community that is being integrated with the Burnaby campus.

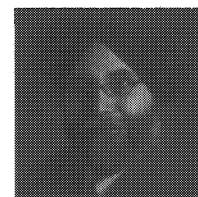

Since 1966, Dr John M. Munro has been helping to shape SFU. He was professor, dean of arts, provost, and vice president, academic for three terms. Although he officially retired in 2002, he has since served as founding director of the graduate urban studies program and the master of international leadership program.

Mr Donald J. Hudson served for two terms on SFU's Board of Governors, including one term as chair. From 1987 to 1990 he was team leader of the Bridge to the Future fundraising campaign, and from 1992 to 1996 he chaired the SFU Foundation.

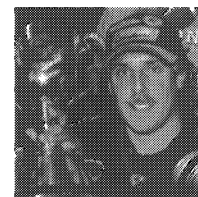

Mr Parminder Parhar owns and operates two Renaissance Coffee kiosks and the Renaissance Coffee Café. The warm service provided by Parminder and his staff—they know most customers by name—has created a strong sense of community on SFU's Burnaby campus.

SFU alumnus and graduate student Mr Daniel Igali embodies the values of SFU athletics. His pursuit of excellence in both sports and academics drove him to bring home the 2000 Olympic gold medal in wrestling, while pursuing his criminology degree.

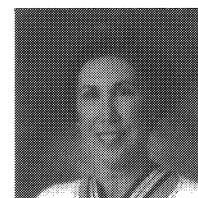

Alumnus Mr Lui Passaglia holds many CFL records and has received numerous awards throughout his career with the BC Lions. He maintains an ongoing relationship with SFU through the Lui Passaglia Football Endowment, one of SFU's three largest athletics endowments.

Ms Margaret Jones was a charter staff member at SFU, working in the university's counseling department until 1993. She has served as treasurer for SFU's Retiree Association and has for years remained a committed volunteer at university functions and fundraisers.

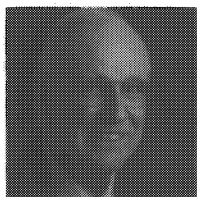

Alumna Dr Barbara J. Rae was SFU's first female chancellor. She created many employment opportunities for young people, especially women, through her company Office Associates Ltd. She also chaired SFU's It's Her Game fundraising campaign.

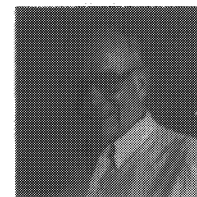

Mr Richard E. Lester was a convocation founder, one of the founding members of the Board of Governors and was chair of the Board from 1968 to 1971. He was also a capital donor for the Morris J. Wosk Centre for Dialogue.

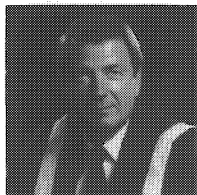

Dr Klaus Rieckhoff is a charter faculty member and professor emeritus of physics. He is a founding member of the SFU Senate and sat on Senate for a record-setting 28 years. He continues his active interest in the university.

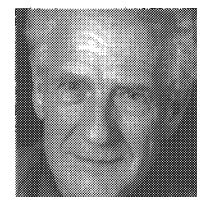

Dr Kenneth Strand was SFU's second president from 1969 to 1974. His term started during the university's initial growing pains and it was his solid leadership that provided a firm foundation for the university's future and its continued success.

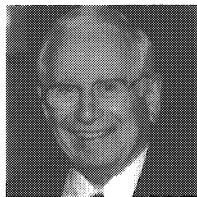

Dr Bill Saywell was president and vice-chancellor of SFU from 1983 to 1993. Dr Saywell is SFU's longest serving president. His tenure is noted for SFU's first major fund raising campaign, the Bridge to the Future, and for bringing SFU downtown to Harbour Centre.

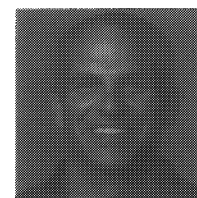

As a founding member of the National Ballet of Canada, Dr Grant Strate had a profound impact on the evolution of dance in Canada. He created a unique interdisciplinary program in dance, film, music, theatre, and visual art while director of SFU's School for the Contemporary Arts.

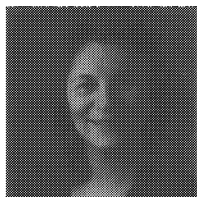

Dr Joseph Segal was SFU's seventh chancellor. He is a generous donor to the university, with lifetime contributions to the university exceeding $10 million, including donation of the heritage building that is now home to the Segal Graduate School of Business.

Mr Jay Triano is the best basketball player in SFU history. He is a former player and head coach for the Clan and was also captain of the Canadian national team and member, captain, and coach of the Canadian Olympic team.

Dr Gerri Sinclair is founding director of SFU's ExCite lab, the first multimedia research and development centre in Canada. She also founded NCompass Labs, a high-tech start-up company that grew out of ExCite. It released the first browser to make Microsoft's OLE technology available over the internet.

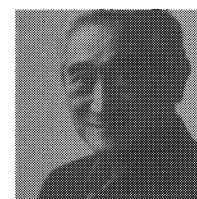

Alumna Ms Lis Welch has long been a supporter and donor to SFU, chairing the Morris J. Wosk Centre for Dialogue Council and twice serving as chair of the SFU Annual Campaign. The Bruce and Lis Welch Gallery in the Wosk Centre was dedicated in 2001.

Chemistry professor Dr Keith Slessor and biological sciences professor Dr Mark Winston earned worldwide recognition for their discovery of how bees use chemicals called pheromones to communicate. Their work set the stage for several SFU students to establish a company providing environmentally friendly insect control.

Dr Milton K. Wong is a key supporter of the university. He was SFU chancellor from 1999 to 2005 and continues his involvement with the university as chancellor emeritus, leading the fundraising campaign for SFU's School for the Contemporary Arts, part of the Woodward's redevelopment project.

The SFU Pipe Band, led by Mr Terry Lee, Mr Jack Lee, and Mr J. Reid Maxwell, is a source of pride for the university, winning four World Championships, numerous individual awards, playing Carnegie Hall, opening for Rod Stewart, and recording ten CDs.
